"I still live" . . . the last words of Daniel Webster before he died October 24, 1852. Even now these prophetic words ring through the halls of our school named after this great statesman and orator. Truly Webster does live through the lives of the students of our school . . . each new class adds to its heritage as it keeps alive the ideas and ideals of Daniel Webster.

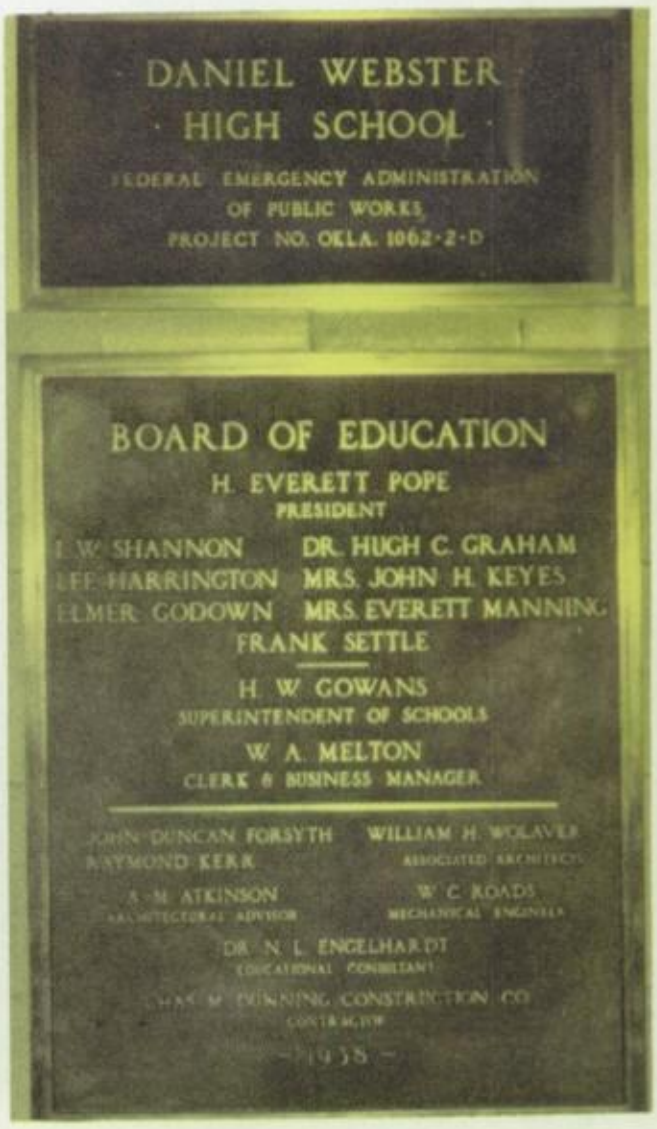
" 'Mid the hills of Oklahoma," stands a building well known to many people. Those who know it have learned to love and respect it. This building is, of course, Daniel Webster High School. Many young people have entered this building, and here have learned to take pride in themselves, their school, and their great country. Here they have worked and played. Here they have learned to develop scholastically, socially, physically, and spiritually. As they graduate, they find they are ready to enter the world as mature adults and assume the responsibilities of capable men and women.

When we look back over the years we see times of prosperity and depression, happiness as well as tragedy, victory as well as defeat. All of these have helped to make our school what it is today. Every loyal Warrior is proud to be a part of OUR HERITAGE.

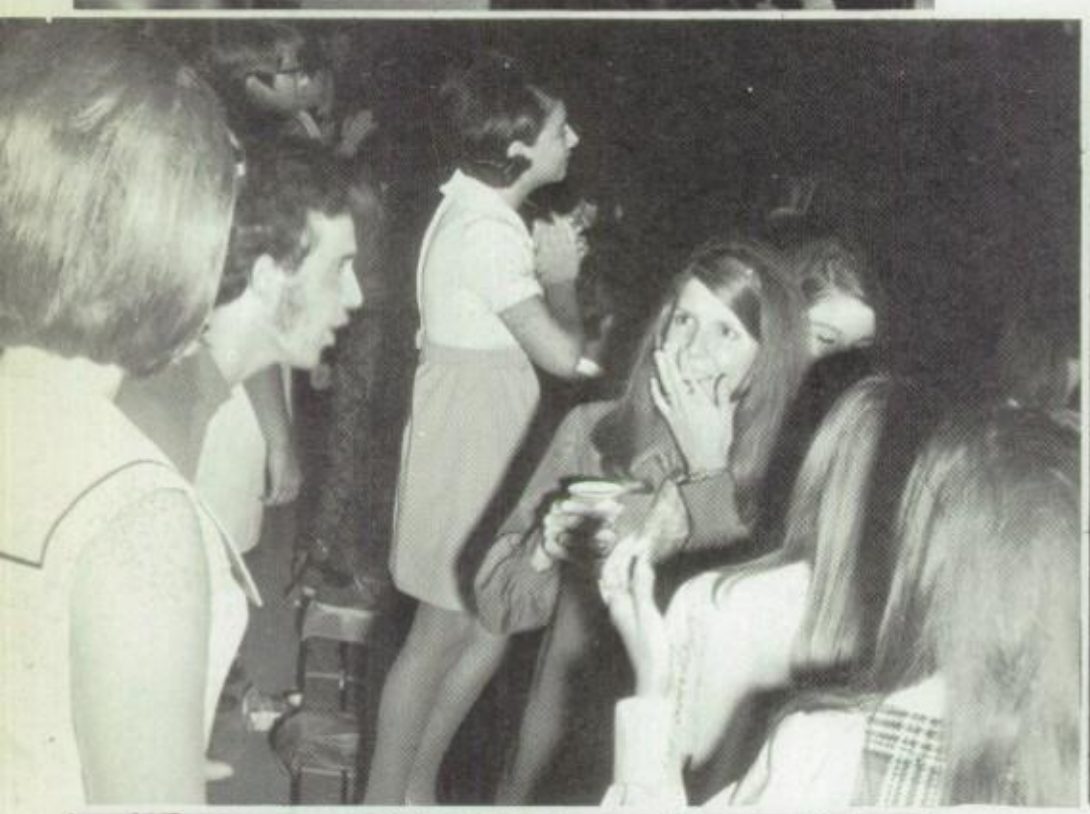
Through Its Thirty-Two Years

WEBSTER has played an important part in the lives of thousands of young people developing into leaders for tomorrow

. . . students shown here enjoying the lighter side of a school day.



Enjoyable And Tense Times Are Associated With School Events



Finalists for Miss Daniel Webster XXXII—Dee Ann Lipe, Mindy Hushbeck, Paula Carter, Ramonda Buchanan, and Sue Pierce await election returns anxiously.

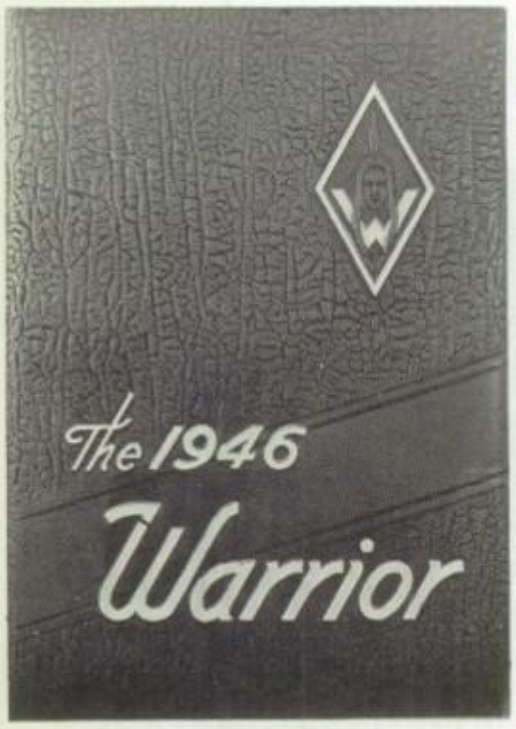
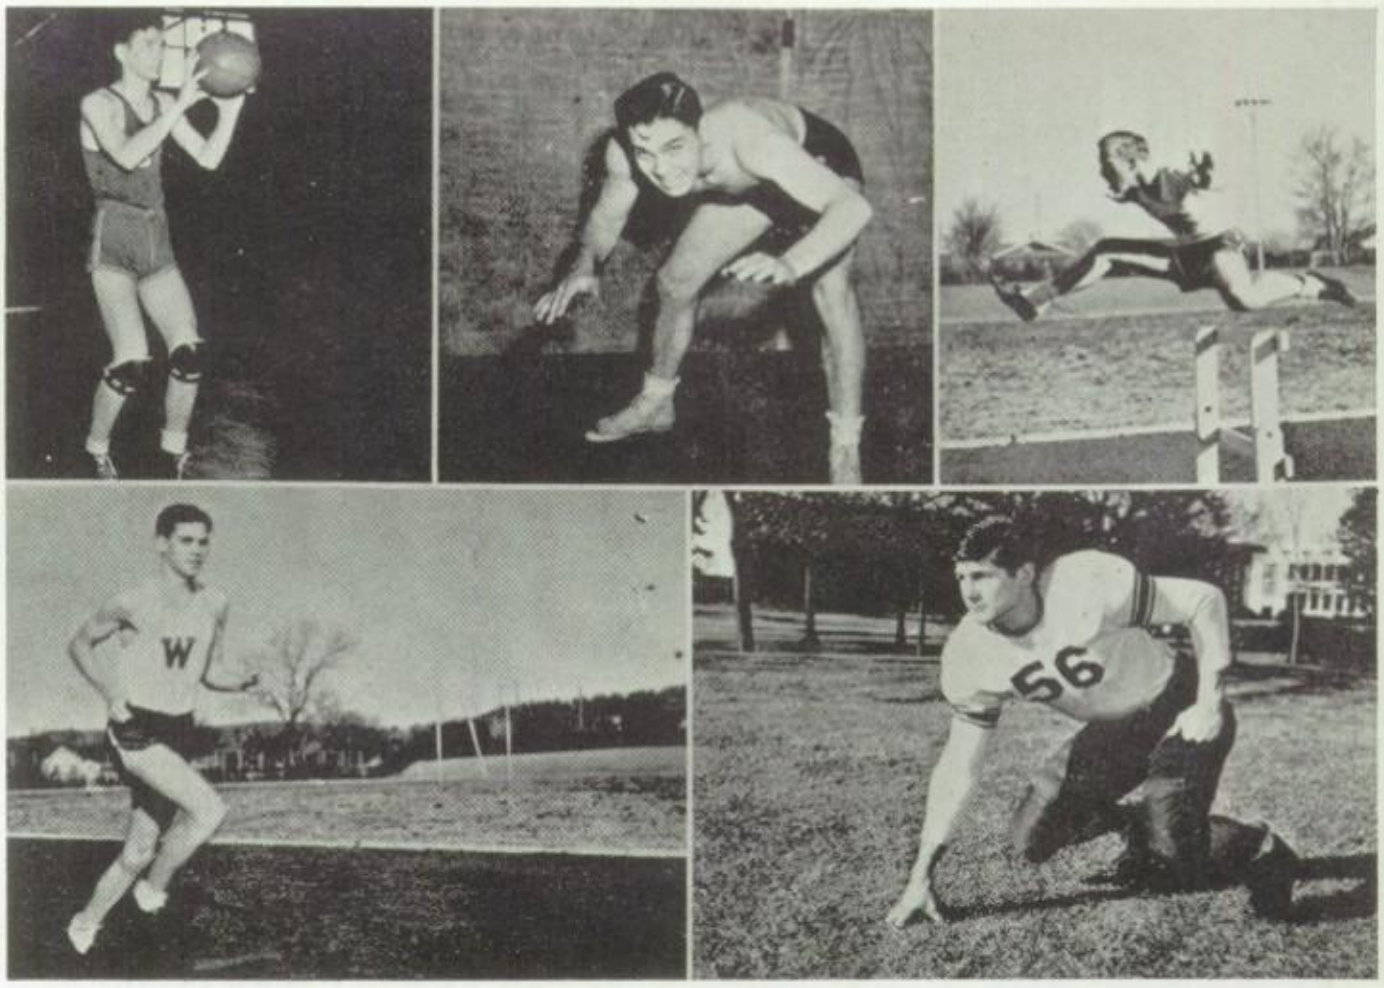
OUR HERITAGE

— The Yearbook Staff, 1970

Early Books Honored Boys

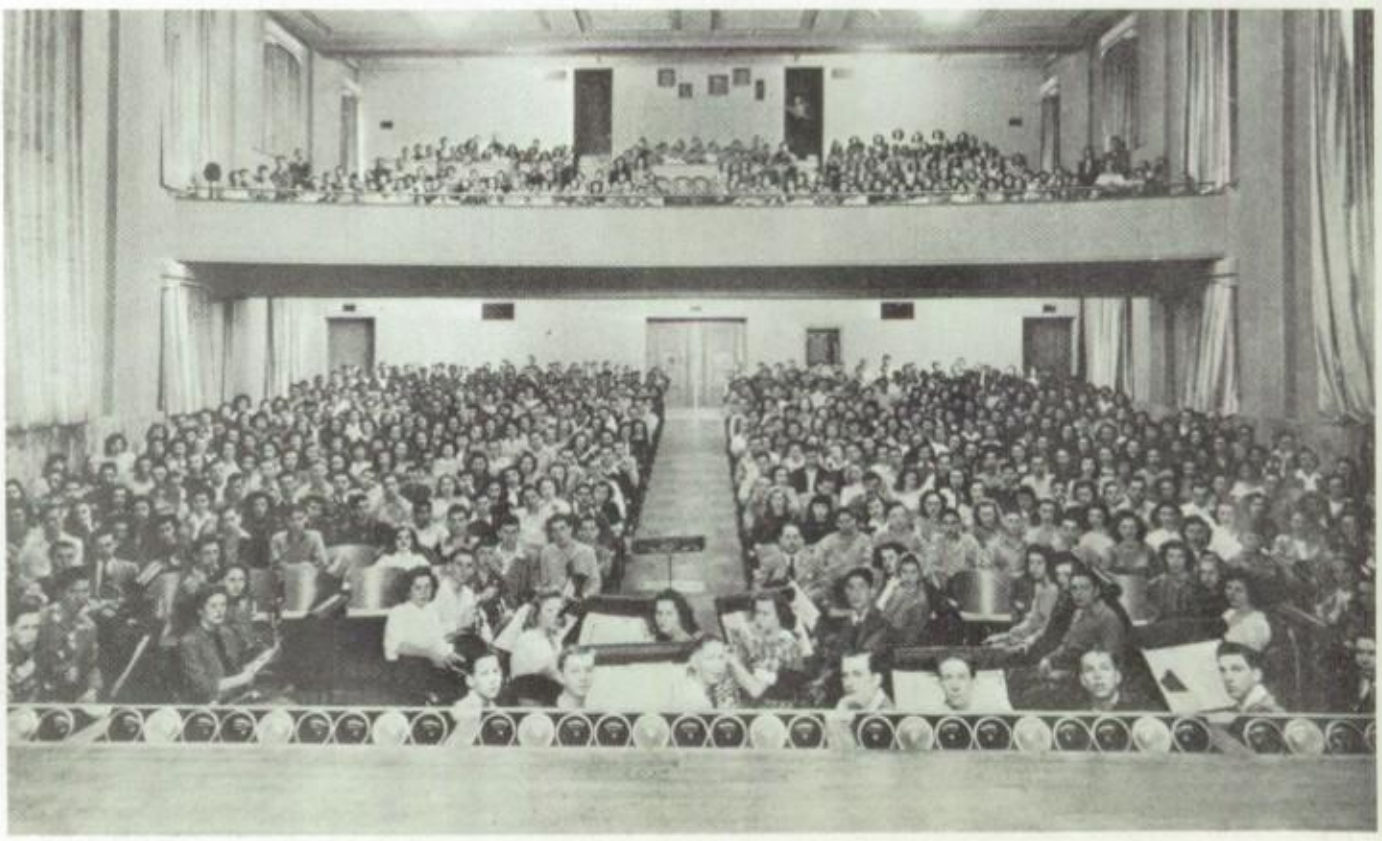


"Lest we forget" in tribute to those from our school who were killed in the service of our country during World War II.



1946—Competitive athletic program in the early years of the Webster tradition were as outstanding as programs of more recent years—and just as thrilling for players and spectators alike.

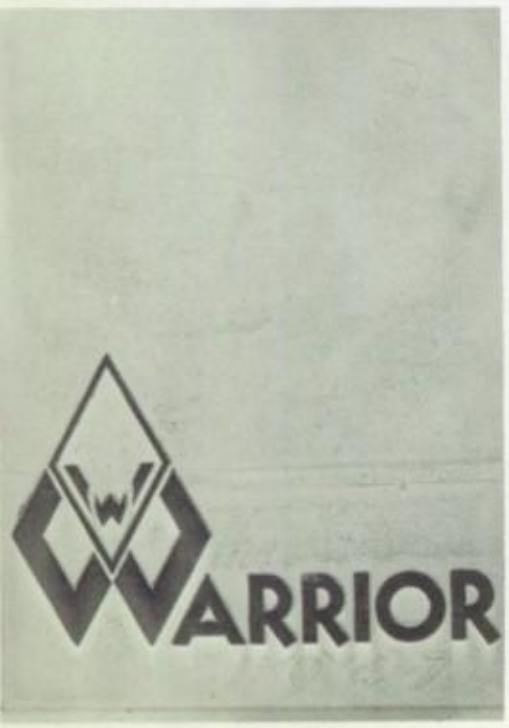
1947—Not so crowded in early years, all students could be seated on the lower floor of the auditorium—quite a contrast to today's "standing room only!"

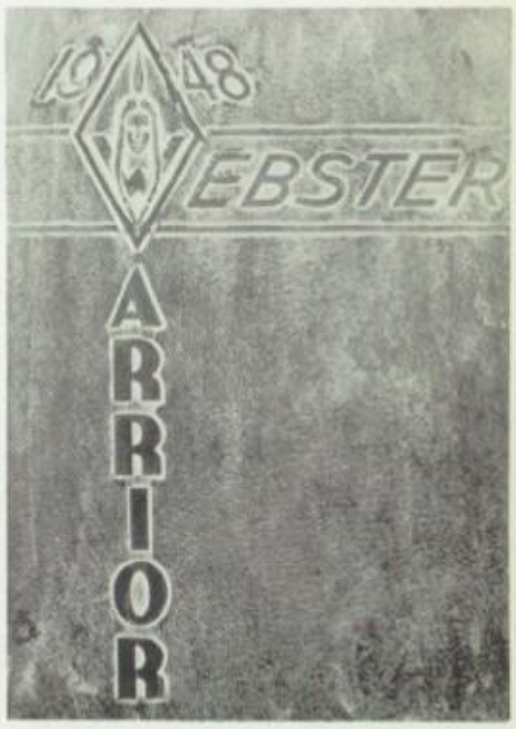


In Service Of Our Country

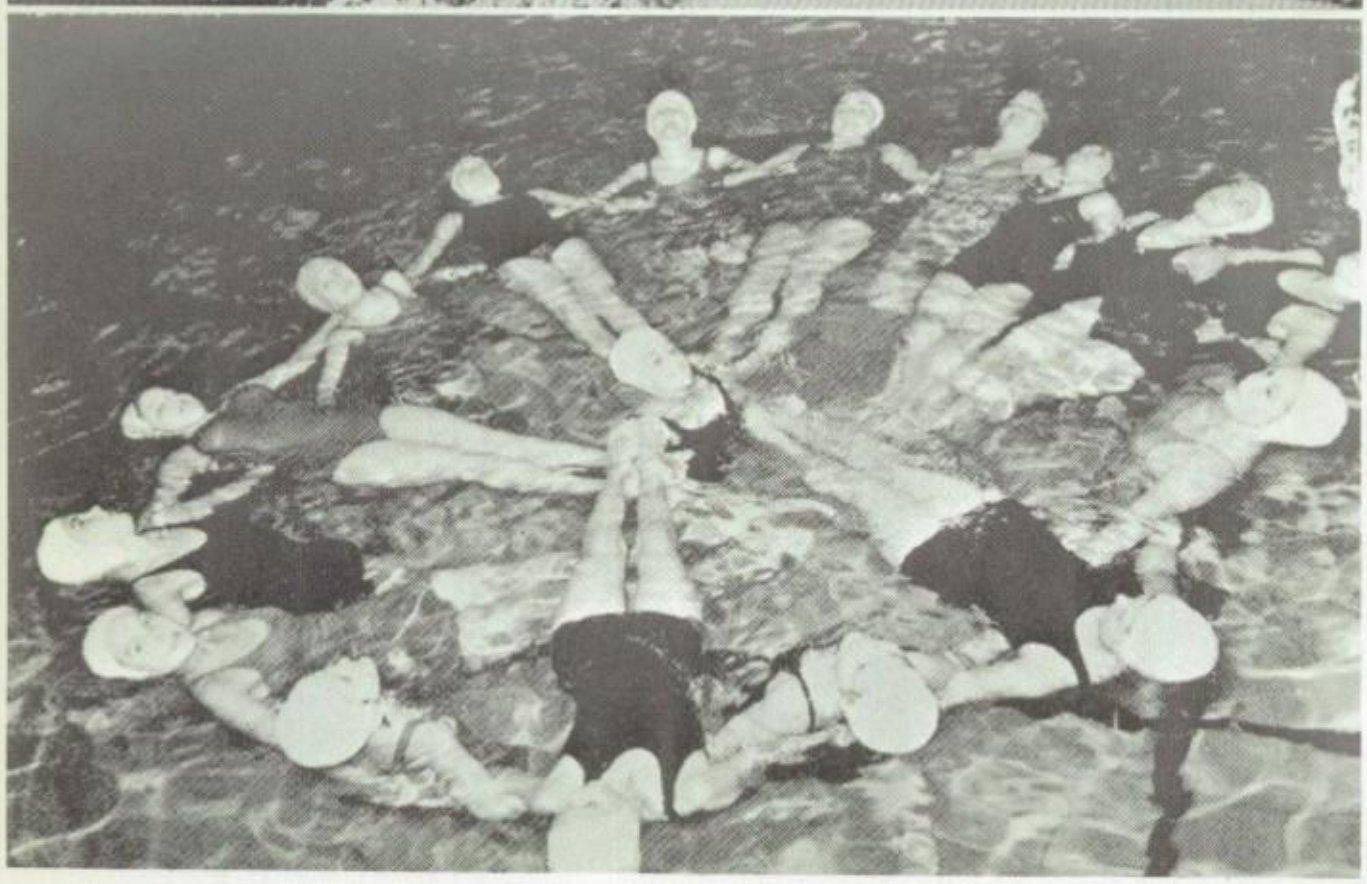
1948—Flashy band, drum major, queen, twirlers and all fill the Webster stage, resplendent in natty uniforms of royal blue and gray.

"This is Daniel Webster—dedicated to those former students who so untiringly contributed their time and efforts to the growth of the unique spirit of our school—its traditions, ideals, and activities.

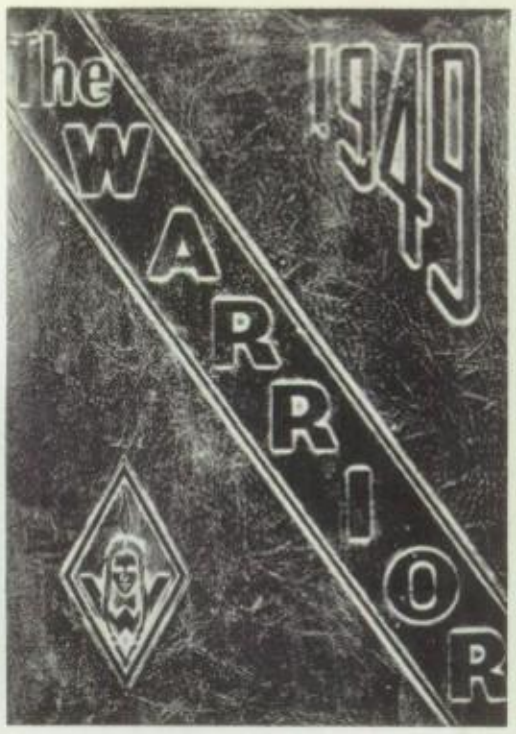




"From Papoose to Warrior"—developing from the time we enter Webster until we graduate when we will be considered young men and women ready to assume adult responsibilities, we gratefully dedicate our 1948 WARRIOR to the citizens of our community.



1949—A year of stately beauty at Webster; one of the most beautiful snows on record, precision swimming in the water show, and a majestic coronation.



"Democracy in Action"—showing the harmony and good fellowship which exist within the stately white buildings of our school and dedicated to the future students and faculty in the hope that they will preserve democratic principles which former students and faculty have worked so hard to develop.

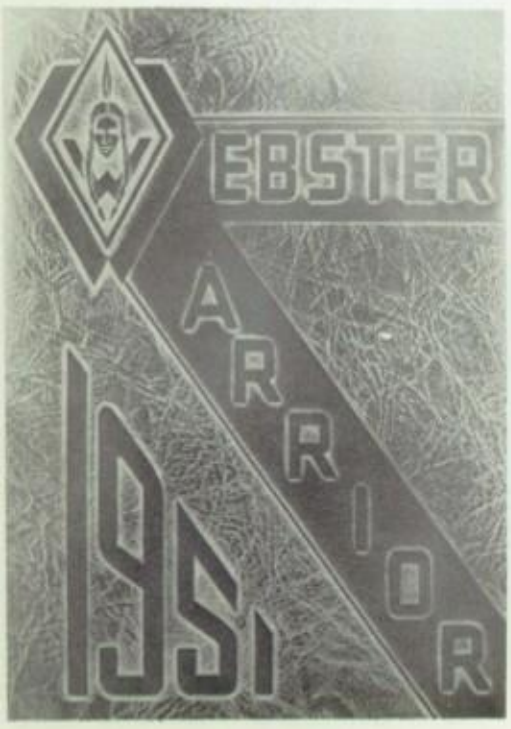
"New Frontiers in Education" developed through the first twelve years of Daniel Webster High School by students, faculty, and Principal T. H. Broad—teacher, leader, friend, whose loyalty and earnest effort is one of the most important factors in the progress of our school.

1950—Graduation year for one of Webster's most outstanding athletes—tri-letter man Billy Don Walker, for whom the annual outstanding athletic award is named.

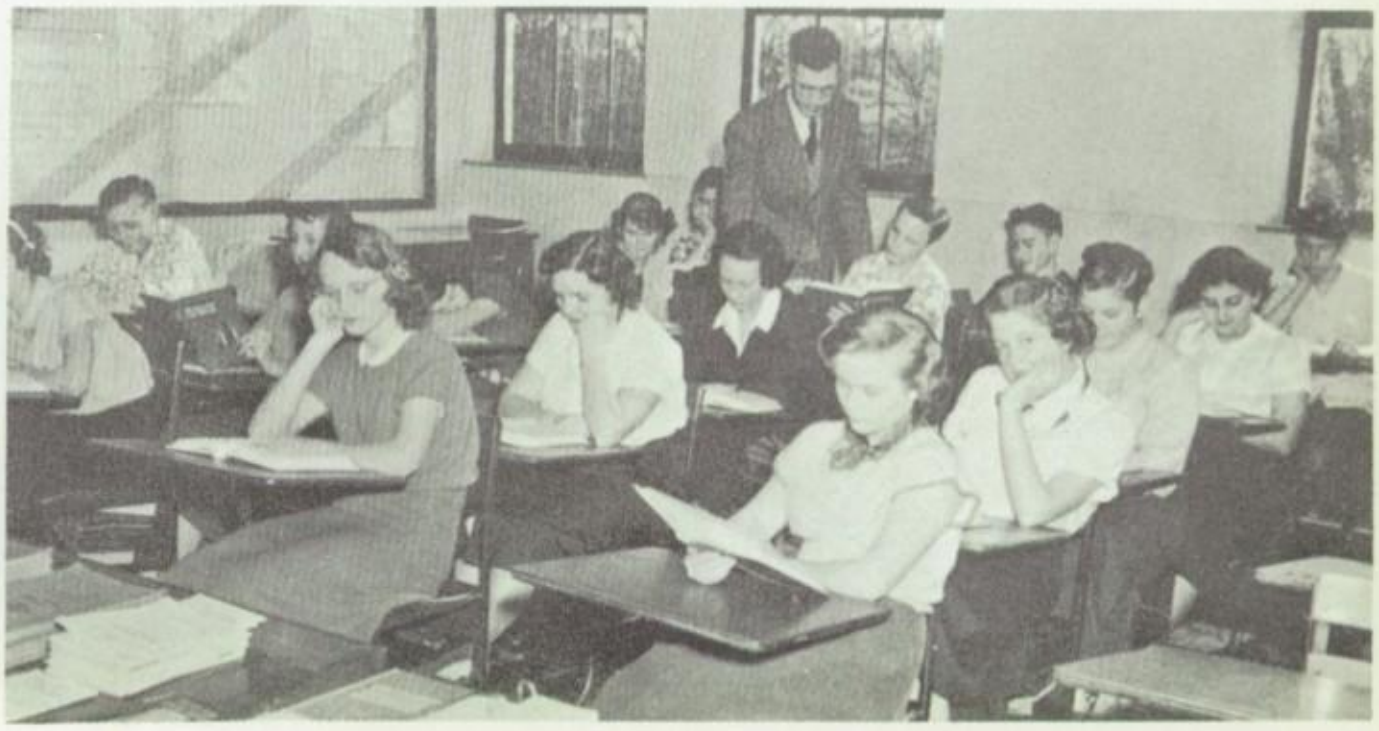
Billy Don Walker

Outstanding Students Develop In Early '50's

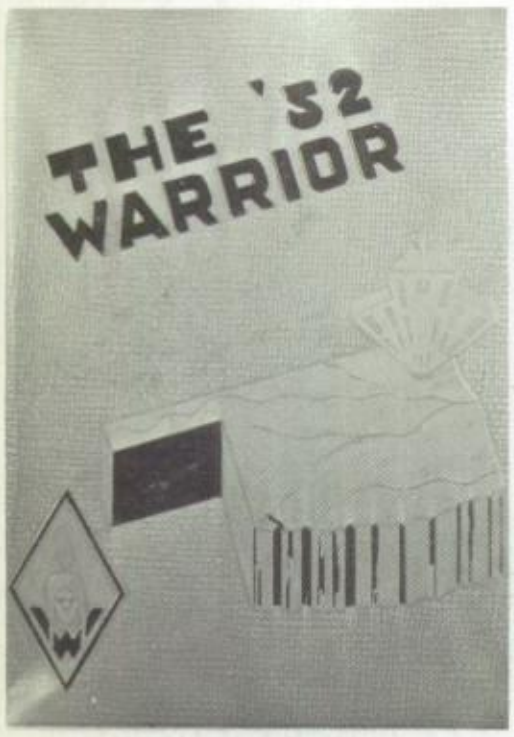
"A sound mind and a strong body"—we strive to make our school a better place in which to attain this Greek ideal—to carry out the principles of democracy founded upon this Greek philosophy.



1951—Typical of all academic classes at Webster over the years is this group showing students and teacher working together to achieve academic excellence.



Learning Is Important In



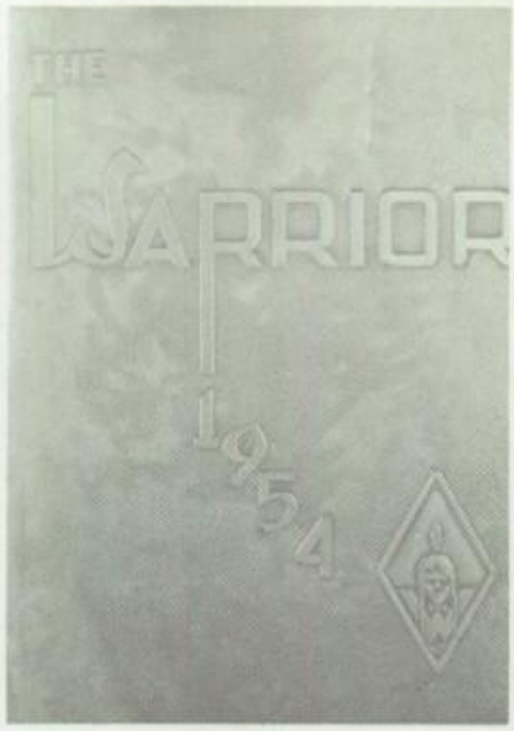
"All the world is a stage"—a rolling green campus amid the hills of Oklahoma is the stage—the never-ending struggle for education provides the theme of the production—students, teachers working together toward the common goal of education and the players.

1952—Cast for the Senior Class play, the melodrama DIRTY WORK AT THE CROSS-ROADS pauses in a formal curtain-call pose for a cast picture.

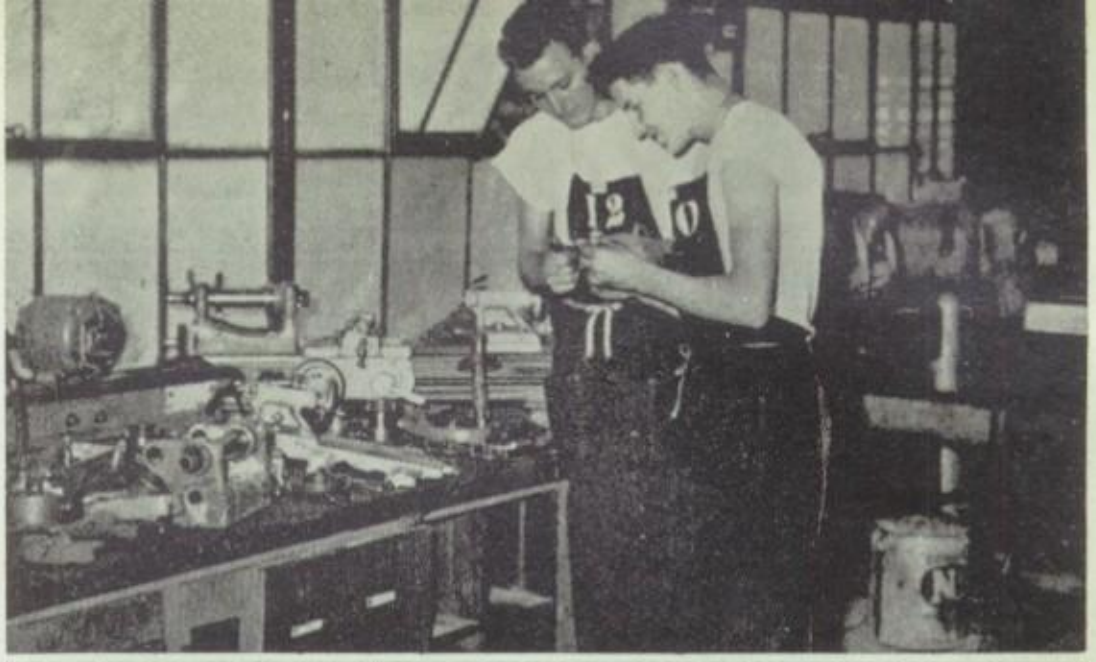
1953—Principal T. H. Broad installs Student Council officers at first assembly of the year; Senior Polly Howard, president, accepts the gavel.

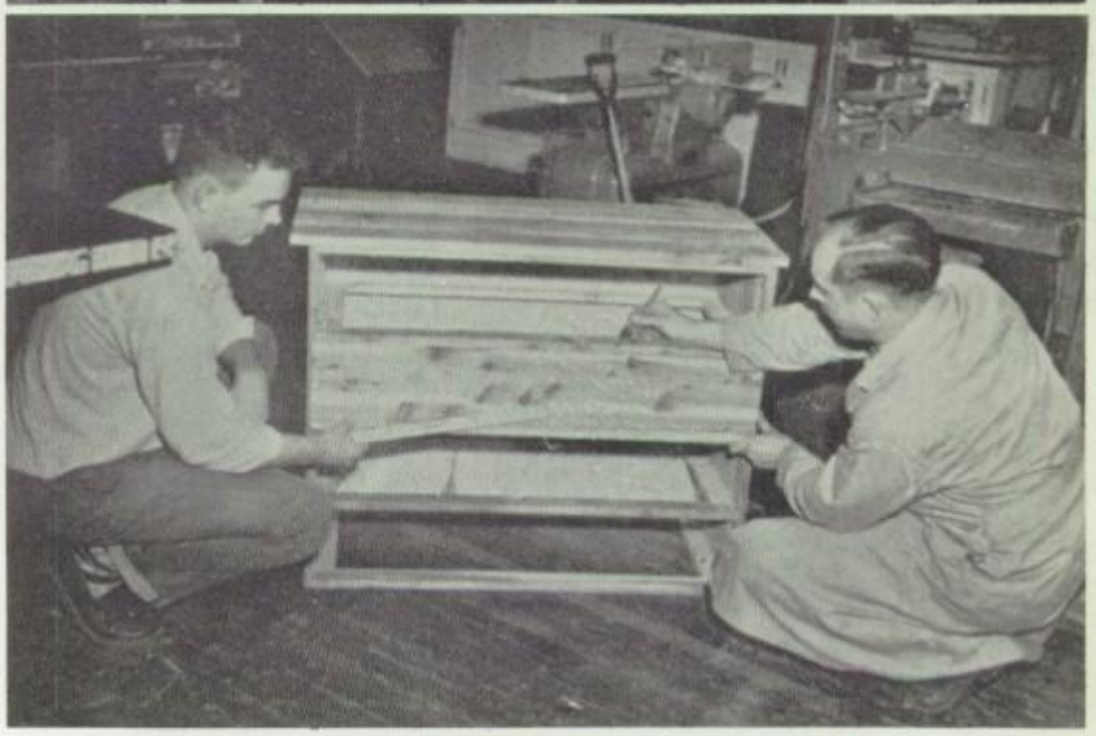
"Family Album" chosen to show the relationship between school and home; dedicated for their unselfish devotion to the cause of education, to the families of our community that have made possible Daniel Webster High School.

Our Heritage



"Stairways to Success" indicating the entrance of sophomores to Daniel Webster, and their climb to graduation through participation in both curricular and extra-curricular activities—the climb to better mental and physical development—the climb to success.





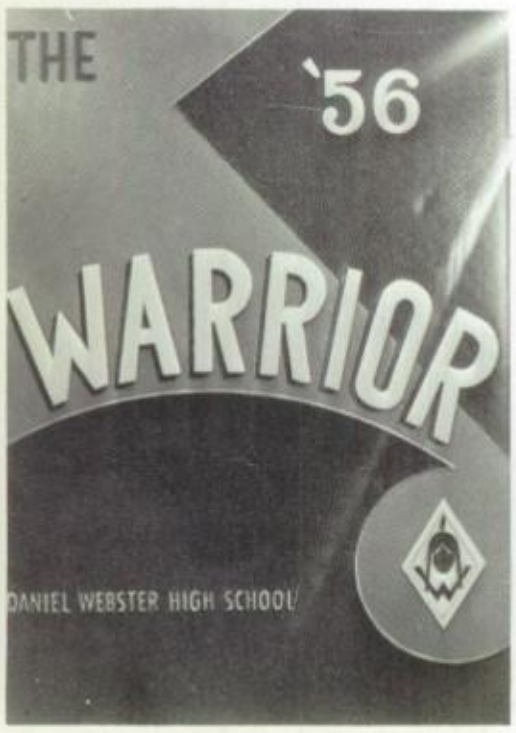
1954—Vocational training plays an important role in the education of Webster students; many techniques are learned in metal and wood shop courses.

"Hands," which reflect a person's real personality, indicate the responsibility of high school students to train their hands in order that they may reveal themselves at their best—and the patience of teachers whose hands have molded our minds and bodies so that we may look forward to the future after graduation.

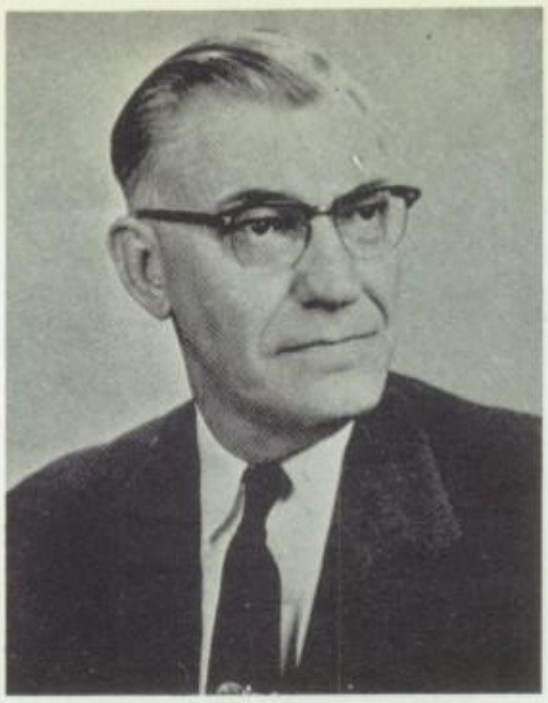
1955—The tenth Warrior staff, happy in completion of its editorial duties, spends time reviewing its completed book; they helped lay the future for all succeeding Warrior yearbooks.

Webster's Traditional Spirit Builds Top School

A salute to the Class of 1946 for creating The Warrior—a publication which had now completed its first successful decade.



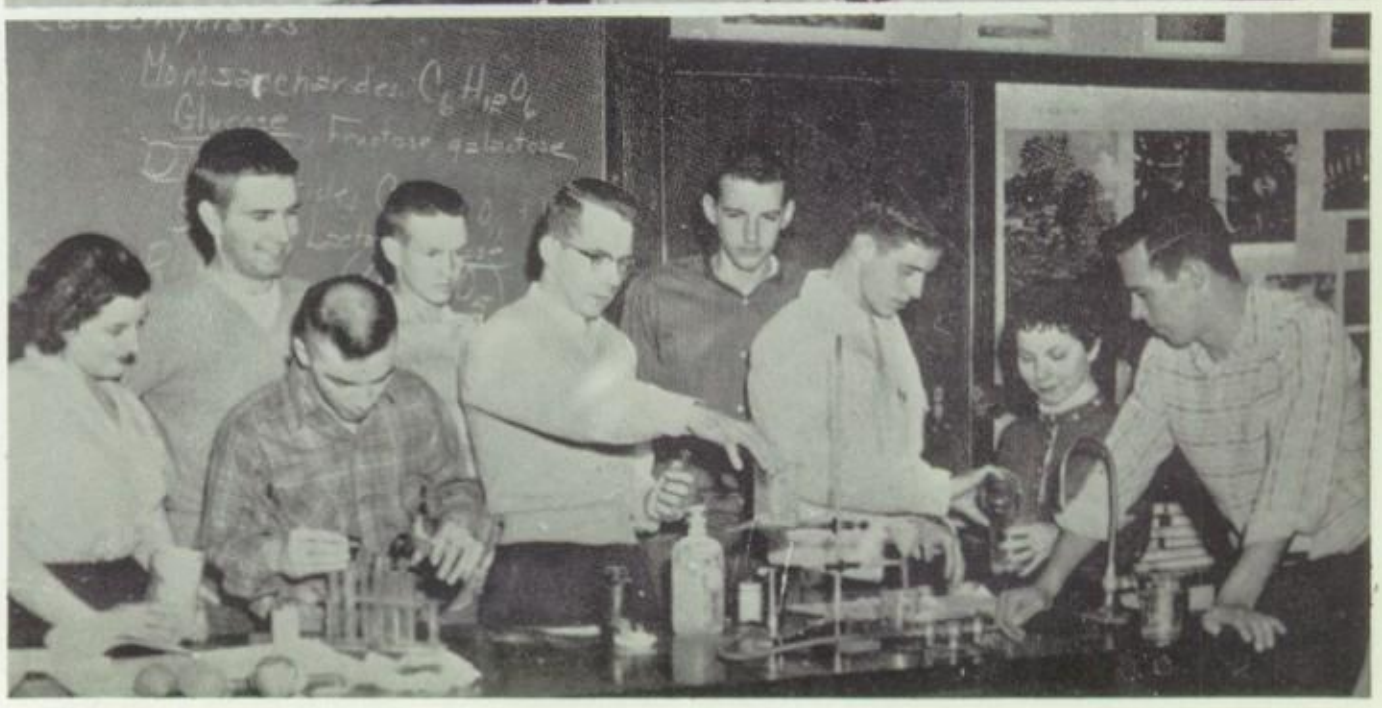
1956—Cheerleaders and Pep Club have long been traditional at Webster—the heritage continues into the 1970's with enthusiastic pepsters.



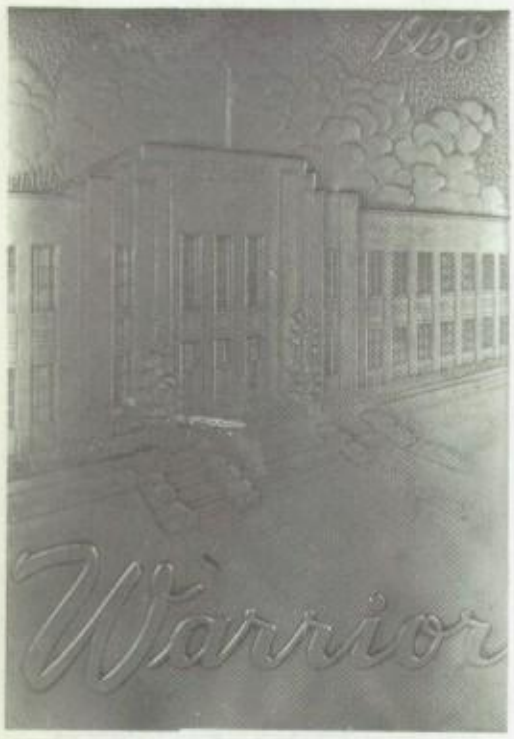
T. H. Broad, Webster's second principal—a leader responsible for many traditions and much of Webster's early heritage.

"Time" in life—pursuing the belief that we are held accountable to both God and man for spending our TIME wisely, the administration, faculty, and student body have built an educational program on the belief that life is not only Tomorrow; life is Now. Our ultimate goal has not been to have the TIME of our lives, but to make a life of our TIME.

1957—As the world moved into an era of scientific advancement, Webster students accelerated their study of basic and advanced scientific study.



Athletics, Reporting, Music Part Of Warrior Heritage



The "Summary Lead"—the first paragraph of a news story which states briefly all of the important facts —is the method used by this book to give a summary, through word and picture, of every phase of school life that has contributed to our all-around development with the hope that accomplishments of this year will serve as a challenge to make each succeeding year even better.

1958—Active girls' athletic program displays beauty, poise, and grace as we see girls from the annual water show and in an active P.E. class.

1959—Webster members of the staff for Tulsa's SCHOOL LIFE publication make plans for copy to be submitted for an issue of the all-city high school paper.

"Doors"—through which the future citizens of our nation pass as they attend American schools, leading students to grow scholastically, socially, physically, spiritually, and in an increased understanding of self. Dedicated to education, the very essence of civilization.

e Redman—the great vanishing merican, saluted this year: their hief, a symbol of leadership and yalty—their Warrior, a symbol of urage and strength—their Maid-, a symbol of love and devotion duty; all of these attributes the esirable aspects of school life.

1960—Always music and always a choir —Webster's musical heritage is strong.

1961—Instrumental Music program was active during the year with one of Webster's largest orchestras to date being featured in many appearances.

A year of growth for Webster—the Annex was opened—the north side of the grandstand was completed—Latin was added to the curriculum and Latin Club organized—a costumed Drill Team was formed—a mock political campaign gave the Presidency to Nixon.

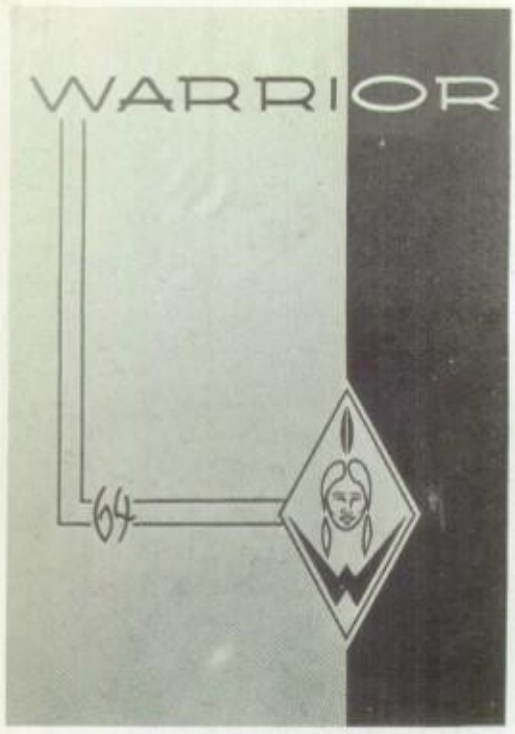
1963—Reactivation of the citywide National Honor Society was a welcome addition to a program of academic excellence.

Daniel Webster ... for twenty-five years we have been guided by your spirit as we celebrate the first quarter century of our school. We have learned to work, to study, to play; we have learned the intensity of loyalty, the glory of victories, the desolation of defeat; may our deeds add lustre and honor to your name with the passing of years.

Webster Traditions Keep Warriors In Top Rating

Campus Capers" showing that Websterites do spend a great portion of their time on academic study, but also participate widely in a variety of organizations including Student Council, Red Cross, Future Homemakers, Future Teachers, Future Nurses, foreign language and science clubs, and publications staffs for Tulsa School Life and The Warrior.

1962—Busy learning center for Webster students is the library where students spend many hours doing research for many of their courses.



"There is nothing so powerful as truth—and often nothing so strange." These immortal words of Daniel Webster key-note a year filled with action, reaction, and tragedy. Baseballers brought home their fifth State title in seven years, basketball star set a new school record for scores in a single game, football team was the Regional AA champion. The book also regretfully reports, "Midway through the season, first-string quarterback John Tomblin sustained a fatal injury in the game against Memorial High School."

1964—Rapidly expanding business education department, including the Cooperative Office Education program, was involved in numerous learning activities.

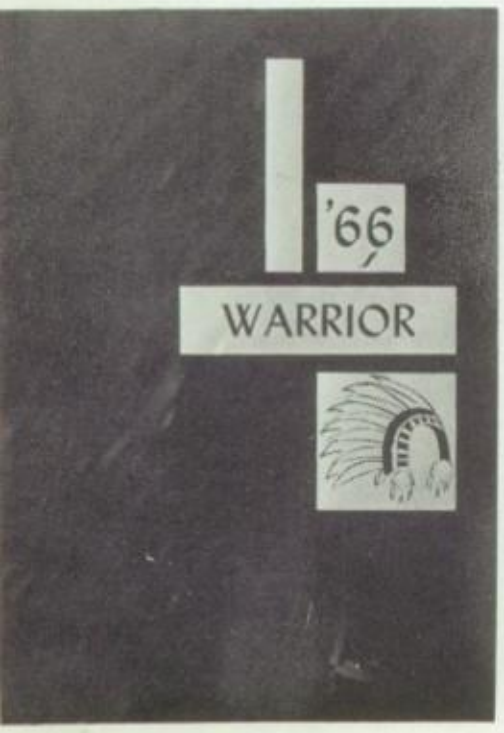
John Tomblin

Athletic Program Rich In Tradition And Heritage

"Faces and Places" . . . reminder of a year at Webster: striving for perfection, mastering skills, preparing to serve, finding satisfaction in accomplishment, demonstrating loyalty and devotion, achieving goals, triumphing over defeat, seeking a place in the halls of memory.

1965—Homecoming is always a busy day on our campus starting with a coronation assembly, including football, and a coronation ball.

"The Seasons"—bright colors of autumn, chill of winter, new birth of spring, blistering sun of summer —capturing the excitement of another year, the hunger for learning, the caravan of emotions of the school year: successes, failures, joys and disappointments, associations and separations.

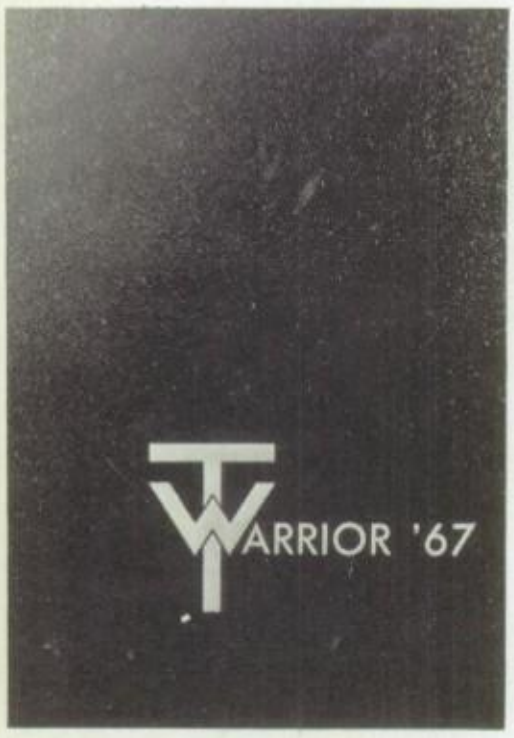


Mr. Kenneth Admire, loyal Warrior basketball fan.

Mr. Carl A. Ransbarger, Webster's third principal.

1966—A large and enthusiastic group of athletes representing lettermen from all of the nine sports which form the competitive fields at Webster.

Artistic Endeavors Build Warrior Aesthetic Spirit



"Days in Tulsa," the home of Daniel Webster High School—a city of industry, beauty, learning, and people—Oil Capital of the World, a city where man's love of beauty inspired him to build majestic churches, leisurely parks, educational museums, and a clean, expanding skyline—a city where friendliness is the password.

1967—Outstanding student artist of the year displays a number of his works prepared in a variety of technical media.

The "Habitual Vision of Greatness" based on a feeling of security, hope, gracious pride, and overwhelming integrity. Throughout our years at Daniel Webster we work—we Learn/we Sacrifice—we are Rewarded/we Play—we Enjoy/we are Counseled—we become Inspired/Thus we Mature.

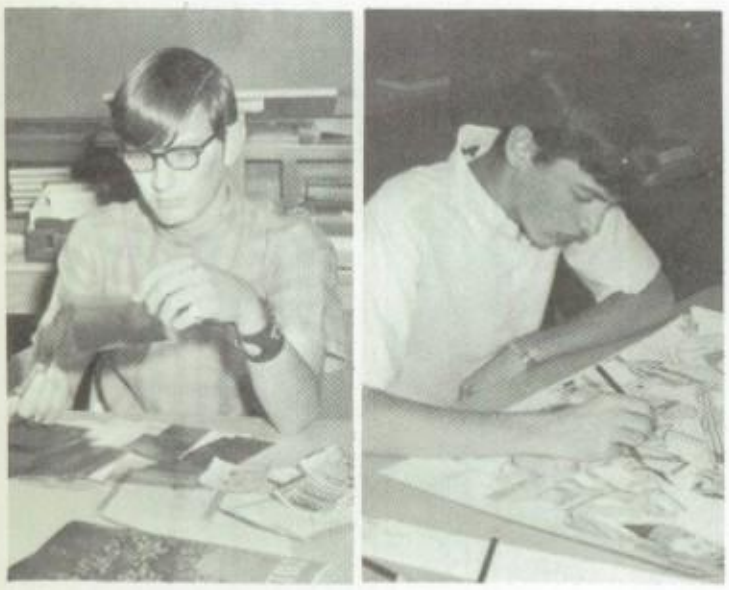
"This is Now"—the scene was groovin' on to make this one of the best years of our lives. We tell-it-like-it-is, for we are the people of tomorrow; we do our thing today, to make tomorrow's beat go on; we leave behind this scene of awakening, we must face the realities of life, whether they be right or wrong, good or bad . . . for THIS IS NOW!

1969—Adding a touch of graciousness to the Webster main hall, and a festive Yule greeting, the Student Council decorates the annual Christmas tree.

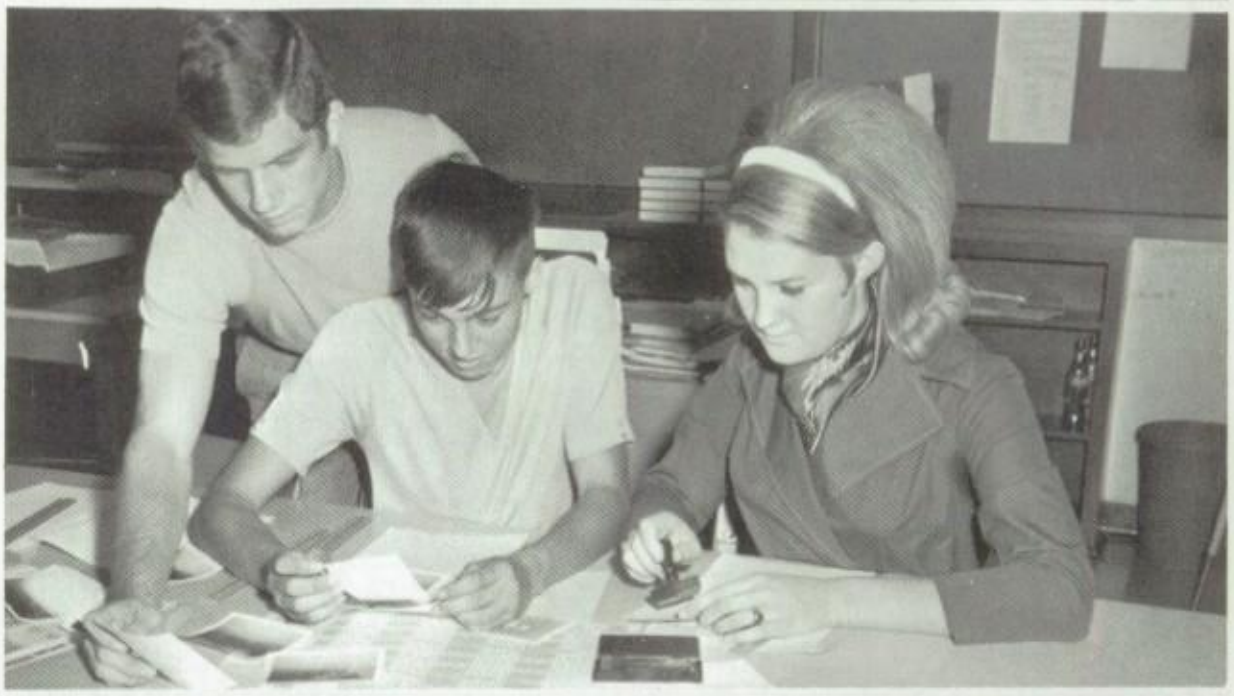
1968—Augmenting the size of the marching band and adding a flash of color, the Warriorettes present a patriotic drill at football half-time.

After reviewing the history of our school as we have looked at former editions of THE WARRIOR, the 1970 staff, feeling that it has let you review our heritage, now proudly presents its review of the school year 1969-70—a year which in its passing also becomes a portion of our heritage.

The Warrior Staff, 1970



Staff photographer and artist contributed much creative effort to depict the events of a busy school year.



Planning page lay-outs, discussing composition, editing copy, keeping track of all pages and pictures, and reviewing design books to acquire new ideas have been a portion of the staff's many-faceted job in preparing THE 1970 WARRIOR.

Elevate Schools

Outstanding Tulsa citizens serving on the Board of Education, and highly qualified administrators have spent long days during the year to keep Tulsa Public Schools among the leading educational systems in the nation. Our new Superintendent assisted by the retiring Superintendent Emeritus has worked closely with the Board and Tulsa citizens to bring the problems of the schools to these citizens so they may better understand the aims and needs of a metropolitan educational system.

Webster's administrators have helped the instructional staff do its best teaching under the guide lines established by the Board of Education and supervisors. They have planned the Webster program making sure that it functions well.

With this kind of cooperative attitude prevailing in the school, each teacher at Webster has been in the fortunate position of doing his utmost to bring knowledge and skilled precision to students. This year's program has been typical of that prevailing in former years—the program which has provided our school's rich academic heritage.

Friendly, Familiar Faculty Returns

For many years the turnover of teachers at Webster has been great with as much as one-third of the faculty being new each year; this year Warriors were happy to see only half as many new faces among the faculty and nearly all of their old favorites return. There's something nice about a teacher one knows—yes, we need new teachers at times, but traditions are built around a continuing staff of dedicated teachers—that's one of the things we liked best at Webster in 1969-70!

Joining our faculty this year are six new teachers. They have already become a part of Webster's activities and community life. They are the people who fill the empty desks when others move on.

Helping the faculty and gaining experience for future careers are the intern teachers. Many are alumni of Webster; many are new to Tulsa; all are fulfilling their dream in life ... to become involved. Pictured discussing assignments with Assistant Principal Kirkpatrick are Merle Calmus, Linda Ketchum, Linda Keck, Don Rhyne, and Susan Jones.

As we move on in time, they will become another page in the history book of our lives; they become a part of OUR HERITAGE.

STUDENT LIFE

And now we build—turning the present into the past and more traditions—today they are "living traditions."

We live and grow, but not in "blobs"—hence we drop the typical yearbook plan of "sections" and present our year in chronological order—as we lived it—a mixture of breaking the mold where convenient—when a "big event" comes our way—we then no longer stick to the four columns on each double page, but monopolize space as events have monopolized us for hours at a time.

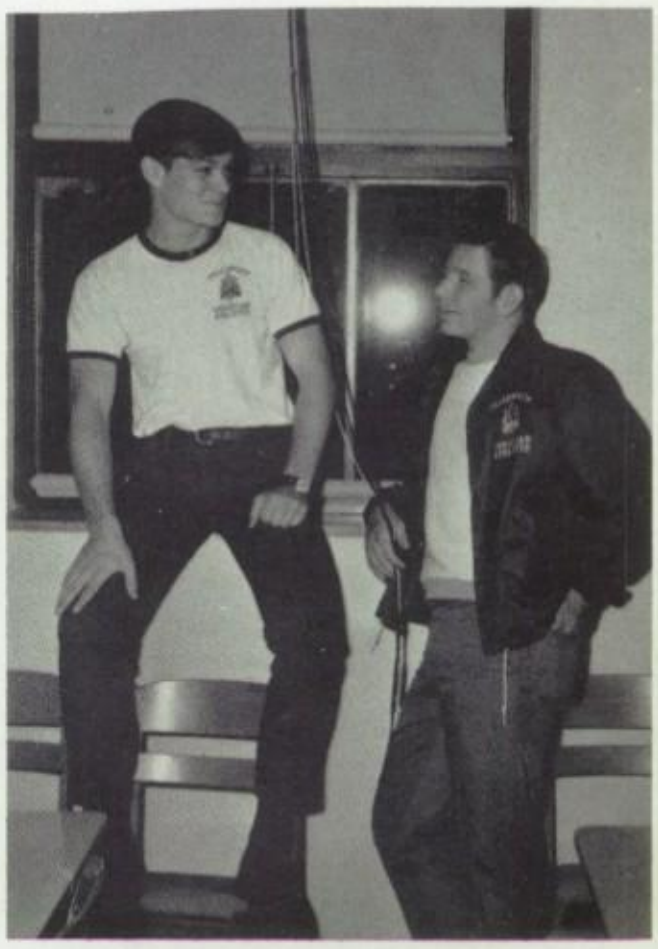
OUR HERITAGE grows as our year advances!

Many Warriors Involved In 1969 Summer Activities,

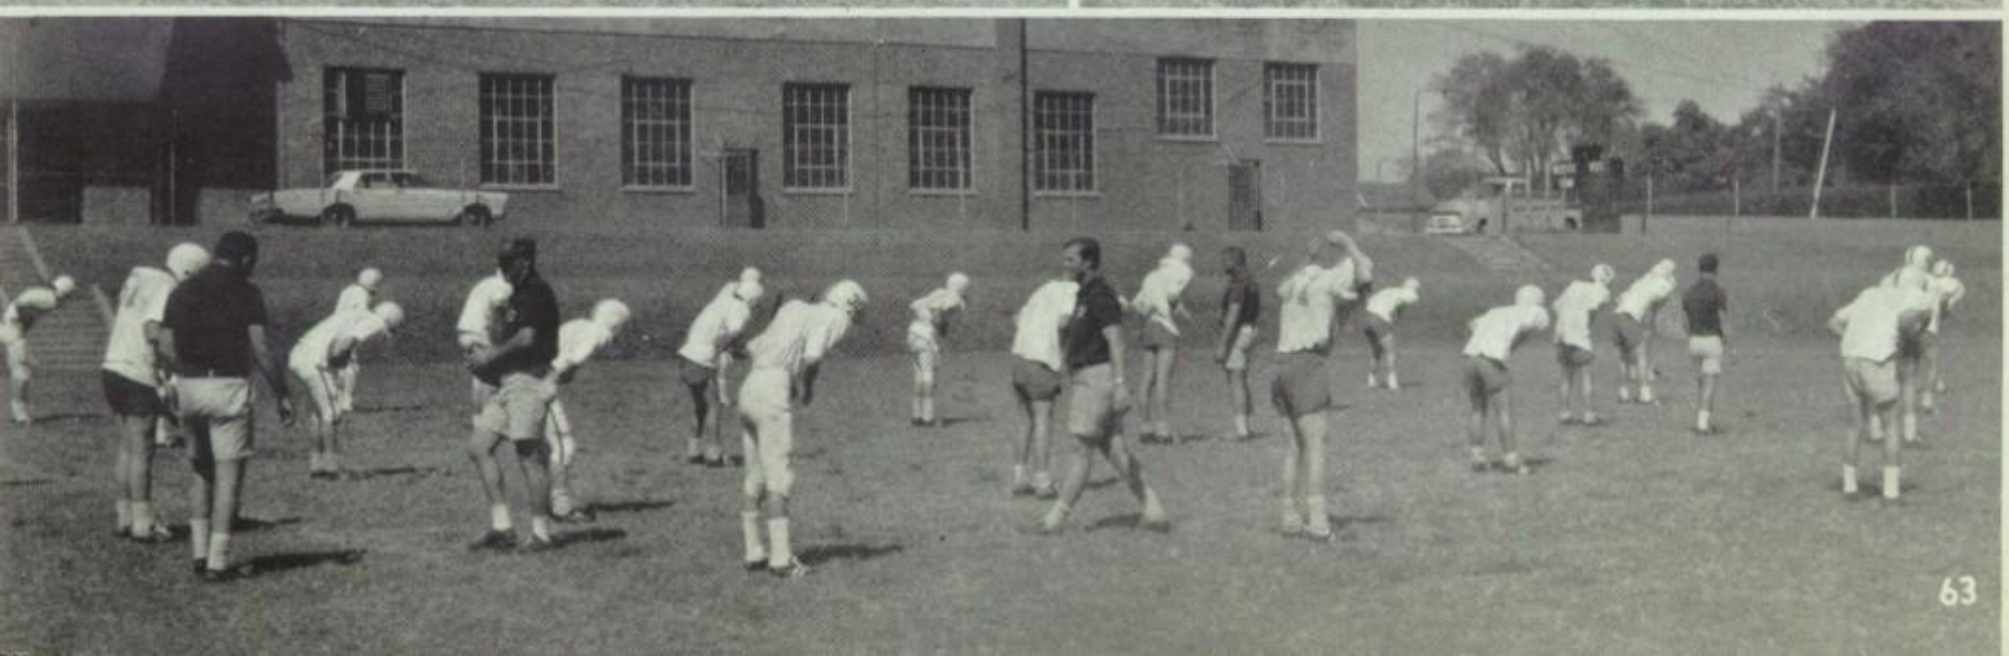
Sue Guinn attended the Leadership Conference at Oral Roberts' University in June; Maureen Malone and John Roley were selected to serve on the Teen Board of Directors of the Mercantile National Bank for the school year 1969-1970.

Webster's active Medical Club successfully ran two for State Medical Association officers: Maureen Malone, president, and Mike Smith, treasurer. Joe Sesser, Dee Ann Lipe, and Curtis Hale attended Boys' and Girls' States sponsored by the American Legion and its Auxiliary.

Very Deeply Conferences



Dan Pressley and Rick Dyer attended the summer conference of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, then joined the Warrior team in work-outs and scrimmages in August.

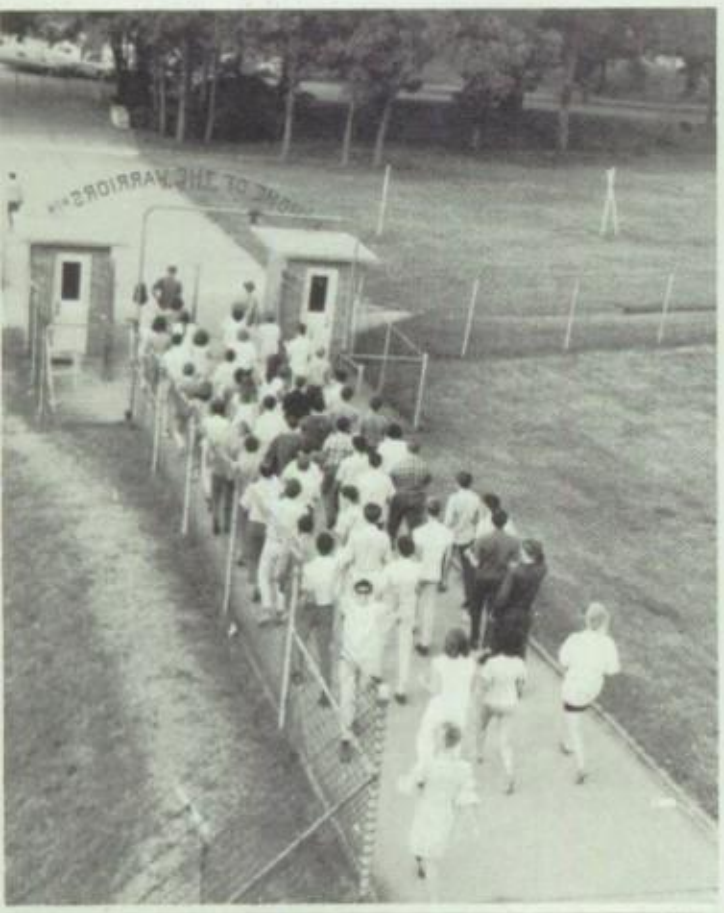


Webster Earns Sportsmanship Trophy Third Year In Row

Pep Club President, Le-Ann Hatten displays the Tulsa City Sportsmanship trophy which was awarded Webster for the third consecutive year. All Coaches, Game Officials, and Principals ballot on each athletic event to determine which local school earns the honor each year. Webster Warriors are highly honored to receive this distinction for the third successive year.

Early morning drills bring out the "worst" in Band Director Jerry Burdick as he commands the marching band, but it does pay dividends when Webster's elite swing onto the field or down the parade route. Twirlers for the band this year are Teresa Meech, Glenda Branaman, and Janice Holloway. "Parading" to the field, then running for the bleacher seats are favorite routines of the marching band.

Cheerleaders attempt to get organized early in the year; cars and students arrive simultaneously on the War Path; then comes inevitable enrollment!



Autumn Sees Webster Open Educational Doors For Thirty-Second Year

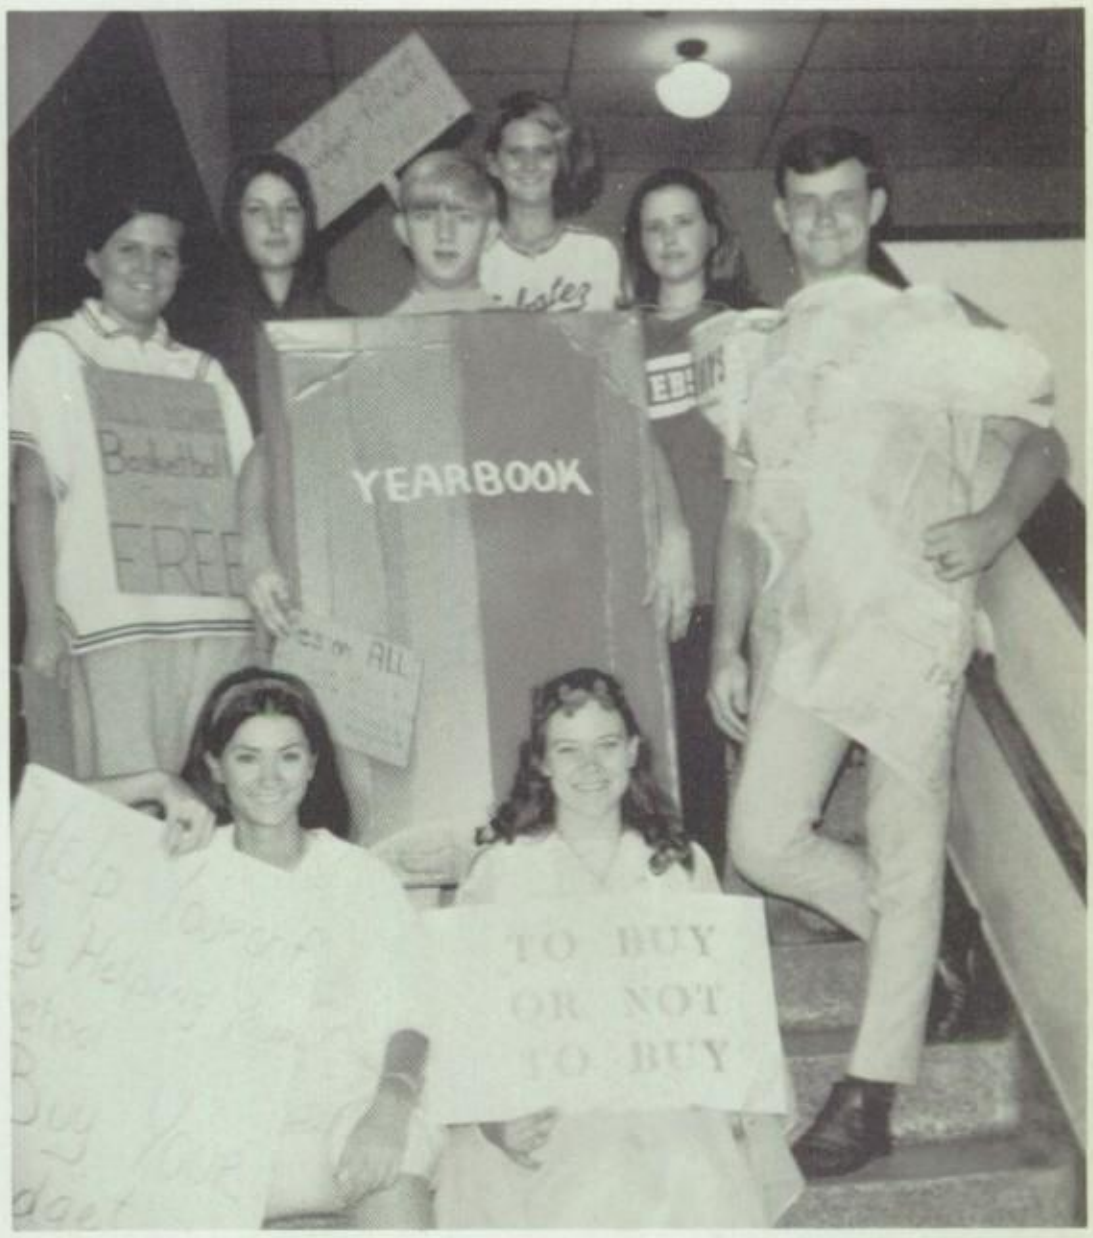
Officers of the National Honor Society, President Debbie Ridenhour, Vice-President Peggy Fryhover, Secretary Claudette Snow, and Treasurer Johnny Roley discuss plans for the year; Sponsor Mr. Warren Abraham addresses the Society at one of its regular bi-weekly meetings. This organization is concerned with the academic standing of all Webster Warriors.



Head Football Coach Larry Smith and his assistant Gene Hart watch intently from the side-lines as their team fights hard on the field.

Officers of the Student Council pause momentarily in their September chore assisting the school with the sale of budget tickets and yearbooks.

This year's Student Council worked for the involvement of the entire student body, believing Webster and Student Council have something to offer everyone.

Dee Ann Lipe Chosen Queen For Webster's Thirty-Second Annual Homecoming Event

Dee Ann Lipe, Miss Daniel Webster XXXII, was crowned in an all-school assembly on November 7, 1969. The Royal Court consisted of the Student Council officers, cheerleaders, and the Lettermen's representatives. They were followed by the Queen's attendants and escorts.

After she was given her scepter, she was crowned by the football captain, Ronnie Richardson, and tossed the traditional football by Rick Dyer. The Queen then gave her message to the student body. Two talent numbers were presented for our Queen, one by Court Jester Lanny Gibbs, pictured below.

That night at the football game with Sand Springs, the Queen and her attendants were presented at half-time ceremonies. After the game a dance was held in honor of the Queen.

Pictured scenes include the Queen and her attendants, honor guard, and the placing of the crown; half-time ceremonies with the Queen escorted by Curtis Hale; and the dance with James Kennemer doing the honors. Also shown are PTSA officers selling pompons to students on coronation morning and the Student Council spending a great deal of time decorating the Boys' Gym for the dance.

Seen on stage with their director, Mr. Burdick, are the Stage Band and the Orchestra. Both groups made many appearances during the year. In the bottom picture are the Chanters with director Mr. Charles Dickerson. These music groups give talented students opportunity to work on musical techniques with performance as their aim.

Webster Cross-Country Squad Wins All-City Race For First Time

Under Coach Bill Lamb's second year of guidance the Warrior Cross-Country team made its greatest strides in the history of the school this season. Jumping from tenth to fourth place in the State tourney was only one of the team's accomplishments; they also won Tulsa All-City, defeated the champions of both City leagues (Memorial and Hale), had a dual meet record of 3-0, defeating Hale, Broken Arrow, and Sapulpa—and brought home Webster's first cross-country trophy. Along the way they took third in a quadrangular meet with McLain, Central and East Central, third in the Magic Empire Conference, seventh in the Green Country Invitational, and ninth in Edison's Invitational meet.

Individual Records of Lettermen include:
Richard Sinclair: All-City 1-mile—first
All State—ninth—Silver Medal
All-Conference—eleventh—Silver Medal

... and the Cardinal was big enough to gobble us up!

Complicated by knee surgery for four of Webster's limited number of starters this season, the record again indicates the need of reclassification because of school size—and next year Webster will be the only AAA Tulsa team, all others will be AAAA. A change of opponents with competition against schools our own size will hopefully bring about an improved season record.

Defeating only Miami, Sapulpa, and Joplin, Missouri, by scores of 34-0, 20-18, and 17-14, the Warriors had a total of 286 points scored against their 164, exclusive of the All-City tilt in which the Warriors tied for last place.

Games lost were McLain 24-7; Booker T. Washington 55-6; Duncan 40-14; Bartlesville 25-10; Sand Springs 14-8; Memorial 61-14; and East Central 35-34.

Warrior tenacity with an exciting victory over Sapulpa kept Webster out of the Conference cellar.

In addition to regular classwork, rehearsals, and programs this year, the orchestra under Mr. Burdick's direction did extensive study of the Classical Music period. They closed their six-weeks' study with a television appearance on KVOO-2 and a Culminating Concert on February 16.

Guest speakers for their classes included Tulsa Symphony Director Franco Autori, Tulsa Public School Instrumental director Don Linde, and Miss Monta McFadden who presented a slide tour of Austria. Faculty members discussing art, drama, and socio-political conditions of the 1750-1800 period were Mrs. Pursell, Mr. Wilcoz, and Mr. Abraham. University of Tulsa students also helped with instruction of the orchestra members.

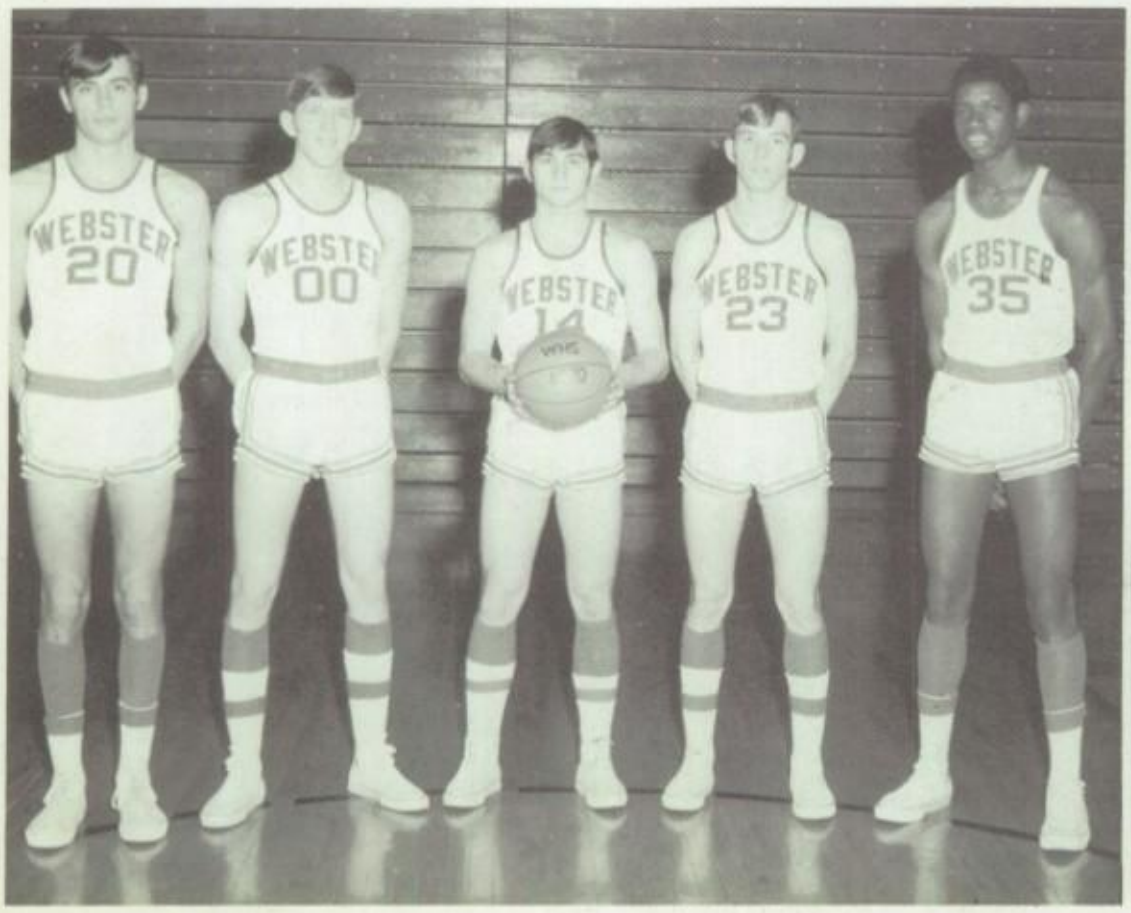
Robert Iverson threw terror into the hearts of their opponents this year with their high scoring games.

In a heartbreakingly close game midway through the season the Warriors lost to East Central 69-70, putting these two schools and Booker T. Washington in a three-way tie for conference championship. In this game Iverson hit 45 points to take the city crown for most points scored by a Junior in a single game. The previous record holder was Memorial's Lee Hawks with 44.



Fortune Rises, Falls in Erratic Roundball Season

Off to a rousing start, seeing its lead wane, then swinging back into top form and position, the Warrior basketball team had an exciting season. In their two tournaments they lost the first match at Miami to Muskogee Manuel 58-59 and found no berth in ratings there. The Hale tournament provided a second place rating with wins over Edison and Muskogee and a loss to Hale who won their own tourney.

Warriors defeated Edison 60-58, McLain 67-57, Bartlesville Sooner 72-67, Sapulpa 65-46, Washington 77-65, Memorial 61-49, McLain 80-65, Sooner 70-52, Sapulpa 78-61, Washington 51-49, and Memorial 77-67 in regular season games while losing to Okmulgee 66-80 and 55-59, and East Central 69-70 in games played before February 20. The final game of the season before play-offs, Regionals and State, pitted the Warriors against East Central with the final score 65-62.

Warriors to State; Bombed by O. C. Classen

Despite Robert Iverson's Tulsa Tribune's honor as All-City Player of the Year along with Bill Cooper's second team honors and Steve Bowling's honorable mention; despite Iverson and Cooper's special recognition on the All-State Team; and despite the fact that the Warriors won All-City, Conference, Regional, and District, OC Classen knocked them off 81-74 in the first round of the State Tournament.

In District Webster defeated Miami 70-61; in Regional it was Webster 62-50 over Broken Arrow and 70-61 over Kelley.

Iverson is the first junior to win the Tribune Player of the Year honor.

Grapplers Place Five in Final State Competition

Regional Wrestling Tournament held in the Warrior Gym on February 20 and 21, advanced five Warriors into State competition: Taylor and Kilgore earned 2nd place honors, Hayes a 3rd place, and Wiley and Ross each received 4th places.

Earlier in the season at the Bristow Tourney Kilgore and Hayes received top honors, Ross and Taylor thirds, and Brown and Willis fourths; at the Edison tilt Kilgore and Taylor placed first; Hayes, Willis, and Wiley fourth. Webster took 5th place in the Regional Tournament out of a field of thirteen, 4th place in the Bristow meet and 6th place at Edison.

Dual meets saw the Warriors tie Sand Springs 18-all; lose to Sapulpa 21-26 and Memorial 14-27, while defeating Bartlesville Sooner 20-15, Washington 49-3, East Central 22-20, McClain 28-17, and Broken Arrow 28-11.

Don Favor, Webster's new wrestling coach, saw his team get off to a slow start, but improve rapidly as the season progressed. The slow start was evidenced as no Warrior ranked in the school's own Tournament, giving the school an 8th place.

Taylor, Kilgore Take State; Hayes Second

Advancing the Webster team to a fourth place in the State Wrestling tournament, Taylor and Kilgore brought home top honors and Hayes ranked second. Webster placed behind Stillwater, OC Southeast, and Kelley in the field of twenty schools. Taylor and Kilgore each won by decisions and Hayes lost his final tilt by a referee's decision.

Stillwater and Kelley each captured three gold medals in the tourney and Webster and Sapulpa each took two.

Taylor graduates this year leaving Hayes with one more year and Kilgore with two to go.

Swimmers Fifth In Conference

Tom McKinney saved the day for the swim team as he placed fifth in 440-freestyle in Conference competition, and qualified for State as well as garnering enough points to bring the Warriors into fifth place in Conference.

Dual swim meets this season saw Webster lose to McLain 22-72, Washington 43-50, and East Central 32-63. Triangular meets put Webster in second place once as scores posted were McLain 88, Webster 42, Washington 24; and in last place once with scores McLain 73, Putnam City West 72, Webster 21. The team also participated in the All-City meet but brought home no honors.

Swimming is still a minor sport at Webster, but growing annually.

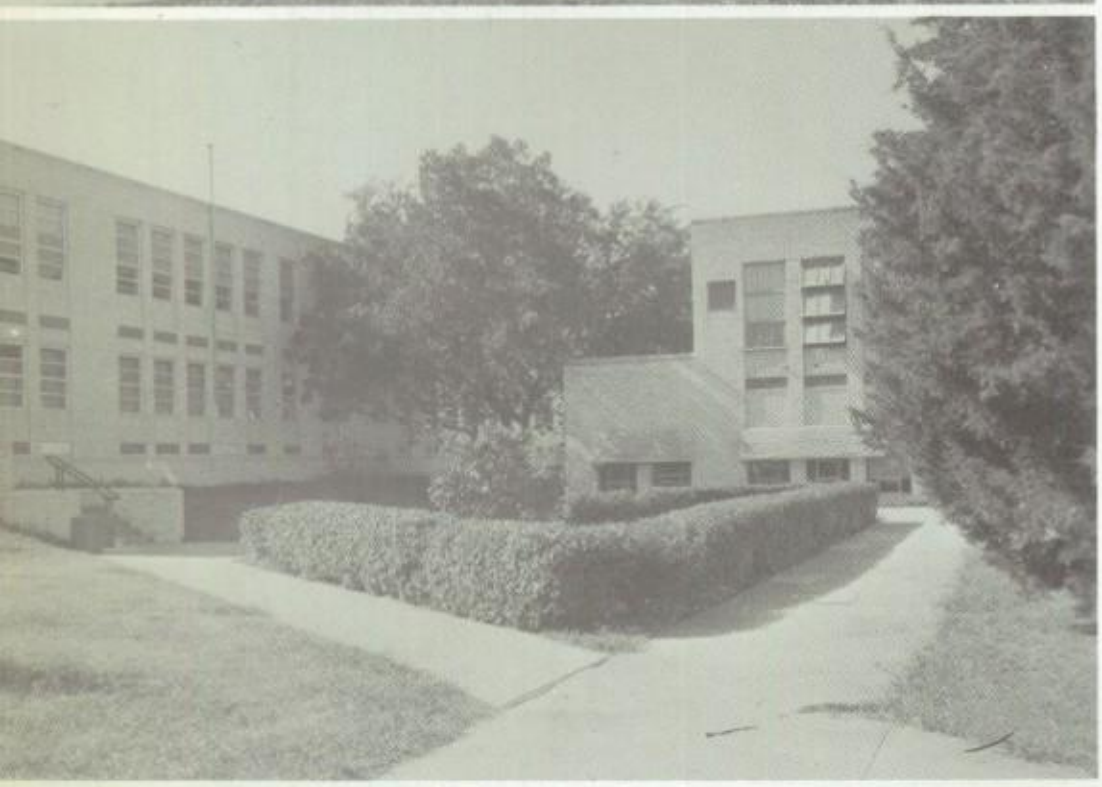
Behind-the-scene jobs have all of the work and none of the glory of many other duties. We owe a debt of thanks to these people for all they do for us and the school.

Providing nutritional food for so many people, keeping the campus and buildings spotless, trying to keep up with all the girl's gym articles, and providing audio-visual equipment is not easy, but these devoted assistants have done a very fine job this year.



Ever-growing, our campus changes with the years: this year it was new lights for the football field.

And now the students are the heritage of tomorrow. Our lives are as an open book to those who will follow us. The year of the "Warrior" is now over to some, but to others it is just beginning. As we leave these halls we take along with us the high ideals, the spiritual influence, social training, and the fond memories of our Alma Mater . . .

Alton,
Your a good ole boy
but dowst go out drinkin to much next year. Stay out those night clubs & bars you'll make it through next year

Ron

Alton!
Good luck
at being a senior Don't raise much hell though or you may still be a senior next year!

Steve
Spr. '70

Best of Luck,
Alton - Hope you have a good summer.
Mrs. Rhodes

Alton,
Even though we've had our fights, you're still a great friend. I'm really glad we're both great '71'ers. Hav a great summer!
Janet Heath
